

The Cyber Policy Center hosts a regular lunch seminar to encourage interdisciplinary knowledge sharing at the intersection of technology, governance and public policy and build an intellectual community at the center.

All seminars are held from 1-2:15 PM in E207 at Encina Hall

10/22

Platforms, Speech and Governance

Daphne Keller, Director of Intermediary Liability,
Center for Internet and Society

11/5

Cybersecurity Futures: Tempering the Dystopia

Vic Baines, Visiting Scholar, Stanford Internet Observatory

11/12

Partisan Enclaves and Information Bazaars: Mapping Selective Exposure to Online News

Shanto Iyengar, Professor of Political Science, Stanford University

11/19

Rethinking Fake News: Myths, Emotions, and Real Threats to Trust

Jeff Hancock, Professor of Communication, Stanford University

11/26

Disinformation as Collaborative Work: The Disinformation Campaign Against the White Helmets Kate Starbird, Visiting Assistant Professor, Stanford Cyber Policy Center

12/3

TBA

Ashish Goel, Professor of Computer Science, Stanford University