

CDDRL WINTER RESEARCH SEMINAR

Thursdays 12:00 -1:30 pm

The CDDRL weekly research seminar draws scholars and practitioners to the Center to comment on the most relevant and timely topics impacting the field of democracy, development and the rule of law. The seminar attracts members of the Stanford academic community and beyond who bring original analysis and thinking to bear on debates taking place within this field of study.

THU JAN 09	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Movement Resilience in Sudan's Popular Uprising Mai Hassan, Assistant Professor of Political Science at the University of Michigan	THU FEB 13	The Goldman conference room (E409)	The Modernization of Rural East Asia Kristen Looney, Assistant Professor of Asian Studies and Government at Georgetown University
THU JAN 16	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Does Growth Require Market-Enhancing Institutions? Dinsha Mistree, Lecturer and Research fellow, Stanford Law School Erik Jensen, Professor, Stanford Law School	THU FEB 20	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Globalization, International Norms and Capacity Building Shavit Matias, CDDRL Visiting Scholar
THU JAN 23	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Incentives for Police Professionalization in Mexico Alberto Díaz-Cayeros, Senior Fellow, CDDRL	THU FEB 27	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Trajectories and Consequences of Authoritarian Elite Persistence Under Democracy Michael Albertus, Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of Chicago
THU JAN 30	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Justice as Checks and Balances: Indigenous Claims in the Courts of Colonial Mexico Edgar Franco Vivanco, Post-doctoral fellow at the University of Michigan	THU MAR 05	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Can American Democracy Survive the 2020 Elections? Richard Hasen, Professor of Law and Political Science at the University of California, Irvine
THU FEB 06	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Resurrecting Compliance in Assessing Law's Impact on Behavior Tonya Putnam, Associate Professor of Political Science at Columbia University	THU MAR 12	The Goldman conference room (E409)	Power to the Parents? Emmerich Davies, Assistant Professor of International Education at the Harvard Graduate School of Education

Contact: Audrey McGowan audrey.mcgowan@stanford.edu 650-736-4277

For a complete event listing and to RSVP, please visit: cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/events

Center on Democracy, Development and the Rule of Law Encina Hall, 616 Jane Stanford Way, Stanford CA 94305